Scrum Board

The screenshot displays a Trello Scrum Board for a project named "UpToDate". The board is organized into five main columns: "Product Backlog", "Current Sprint User Stories", "Current Sprint Tasks", "In Progress", and "Done".

- Product Backlog: Contains six user stories, each with a green progress bar indicating completion status. The stories are:
 - As a user, I want to be able to see what's trending on Twitter
 - As a user, I want to control the amount of content I see
 - I want to be able to choose what sources I see
 - As a user, I want to be able to organize my sources
 - As a user, I want to be able to set a dark background theme
 - As a user, I want one place where I can manage my blacklists/etc
- Current Sprint User Stories: Contains three user stories and an "Add a card..." button.
 - As a developer, I want to add a ui trending slide
 - As a user, I want an archive page to see past searches
 - As a user, I want a user friendly and bug free ui
 - As a developer, I want to have a nicer master git branch.
- Current Sprint Tasks: Contains seven tasks and an "Add a card..." button.
 - Fetch database items
 - Display with javascript
 - Fetch past results from the database
 - Display all past results
 - Better user flow
 - Pictures
 - Color Changes and better color flow
 - Delete unnecessary branches
 - Merger into one branch
- In Progress: Currently empty, with an "Add a card..." button.
- Done: Currently empty, with an "Add a card..." button.
